

NATIONAL POETRY MONTH

#AZpoetry

Poet Cynthia Schwartzberg Edlow

About Cynthia Schwartzberg Edlow:

Cynthia Schwartzberg Edlow won the 2012 Red Hen Press Poetry Award (judge: Cynthia Hogue) – the poem, “Super Dan Comics Question Box Series #18,” was published in The Los Angeles Review. She won the 2014 Tusculum Review Poetry Prize for the poem, “The Timekeeper,” published in Tusculum Review. She is also the recipient of the Willow Review Prize for Poetry, the Beullah Rose Poetry Prize and two Pushcart Prize nominations. Her poetry has appeared widely, including American Literary Review, American Poetry Review, Barrow Street, Cimarron Review, Cuththroat: A Journal of the Arts, Fjords Review, Folio, Fourteen Hills, Georgetown Review, Gulf Coast, The Main Street Rag, Smartish Pace and other selected journals.

Thursday, April 21st, 2016

5:00-6:30 p.m.

All-Ages Poetry Writing Workshop

RSVP to ehutchison@azhumanities.org

7:00-7:45 p.m.

Poetry Reading and Q&A

Arizona Humanities

1242 N. Central Ave • Phoenix, AZ 85004
(602) 257-0335

Join poet Cynthia Schwartzberg Edlow for a poetry workshop and reading in downtown Phoenix. Selected participants will engage in a writing workshop with Cynthia Schwartzberg Edlow held at the historic office of Arizona Humanities. To participate, send a sample of writing up to 35 lines by April 8th to ehutchison@azhumanities.org. Afterwards, Edlow will read from both of her poetry book collections, The Day Judge Spencer Learned the Power of Metaphor, and Old School Superhero Loves a Good Wristwatch. Interspersed with the reading of various poems, hear how Edlow crafts, revises, and finalizes her poems. Learn how a poem comes into being, takes shape, and occupies its own world.

Be sure to check out @AZhumanities for daily writing prompts from Cynthia and other poets all month long.

FREE EVENT!