The New Latinos (1946-1965)

Until World War II, Latino immigration to the United States was overwhelmingly Mexican-American. Now three new waves bring large-scale immigration from Puerto Rico, Cuba, and the Dominican Republic. Hear the stories of Juanita Sanabria, Eligio Peña, Gustavo Perez Firmat, Maria de Los Angeles, and the famous actress Rita Moreno, who starred in West Side Story and won an Oscar. Explore the hybrid identity taking shape in a new generation of Latinos, who are now demanding their place in America.

MIRANDA V. ARIZONA 50 YEARS LATER

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20TH / 6:30 - 8:30 PM

ARIZONA HUMANITIES

1242 N. CENTRAL AVENUE - PHOENIX, AZ 85004

In 1966 the United States Supreme Court decided Miranda v. Arizona, popularizing the “you have a right to remain silent” legal warning. The decision was one of many handed down by the Warren court affecting citizen-police interactions and limiting police power. Fifty years later, the impact of those decisions, including Miranda, appears in doubt. Join Heather Hamel, Executive Director of Justice That Works, for a discussion of Miranda, police power, and where we stand 50 years later.

AUTHORS NIGHT

Robert Isenberg

Tuesday, June 7, 2016

6:00 - 8:00 p.m.

Arizona Humanities

1242 N. Central Ave

Phoenix, AZ 85004

602-257-0335

FREE EVENT!

Join Arizona Humanities at the historic Ellis-Shackelford House in downtown Phoenix and kick off your summer travels with local author Robert Isenberg!

Isenberg describes his many years as a travel writer and journalist, scouring the globe for provocative stories. Hear about his rustic New England origins, life as a freelancer, and the evolving nature of long-form nonfiction. Considering a trip to Costa Rica? Ask him anything. This author night promises lively discussion about adventure in the age of the smartphone.

About The Green Season: "A dynamic collection of essays and reportage, The Green Season illustrates daily life in Costa Rica, a tiny Central American nation dedicated to peace and teeming with tropical life. With his trademark humor and observation, Robert Isenberg describes the people, culture, and biodiversity that make Costa Rica so unique. Richly detailed and tenderly written, The Green Season is one expat's love letter to his adoptive homeland."

Robert Isenberg is a freelance writer, filmmaker, and stage performer. Most recently, he is the author of The Green Season, about his life as a journalist in Costa Rica. His work includes five books, 17 produced plays, dozens of short documentaries, a hundreds of articles for various magazines and newspapers. He created two one-man shows, The Archipelago (about his travels in postwar Bosnia) and One Million Elephants (about the Secret War in Laos). Isenberg is a past Whitford Fellow, Brackenridge Fellow, and recipient of two Golden Quill Awards, as well as a Pushcart Prize nominee. Visit him at robertisenberg.net.

DON'T TELL ANYONE

NO LE DIGAS A NADIE

Wednesday, December 9th - 6:00-8:30 p.m.
Phoenix Center for the Arts

1202 N. 3rd St, Phoenix, AZ 85004

Since the age of 4, Angy Rivera has lived in the United States with a secret that threatens to upend her life: She is undocumented. Now 24 and facing an uncertain future, Rivera becomes an activist for undocumented youth with a popular advice blog and a YouTube channel boasting more than 27,000 views. She steps out of the shadows a second time to share her story of sexual abuse, an experience all too common among undocumented women. Don't Tell Anyone (No Le Digas a Nadie) follows Rivera's remarkable journey from poverty in rural Colombia to the front page of The New York Times. A co-presentation with Latino Public Broadcasting.
