

Author + Talk

Marlon M. Bailey

Discuss
Learn
Reflect

Wednesday, February 15th, 2017

5:30 - 6:30 p.m. - Small Group Discussion (limited to 12 RSVPs)

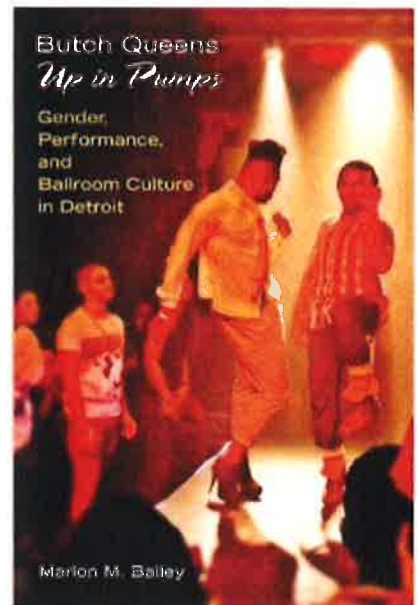

6:45 - 8:30 p.m. - Presentation and Q&A

Arizona Humanities (1242 N. Central Ave. Phoenix, AZ 85004)

Central Ave. & Culver, just south of McDowell, across from Burton Barr Library

Butch Queens Up In Pumps

Join Marlon M. Bailey for a presentation and discussion about gender, sexuality, kinship, and community in ballroom culture. Drawing from Bailey's book, Butch Queens Up In Pumps: Gender, Performance and Ballroom Culture in Detroit, explore how inner-city LGBT individuals dress, dance, and vogue to compete for prizes and trophies. Bailey examines how gender is equal parts production, performance, biology, labor and fashion, and offers a rich first-person performance ethnography of the Ballroom scene in Detroit.

Marlon M. Bailey is an Associate Professor of Women and Gender Studies with the School of Social Transformation at Arizona State University.

FREE Event!

RSVP at azhumanities.eventbrite.com

Questions and RSVP for Small Group Discussion: ehutchison@azhumanities.org or 602-257-0335

PEOPLE ARE TALKING:

New Lunch and Learn conversations with legislators, staff and the public at the Arizona State Capitol

Tuesday, February 14th • 12:00 - 1:00 p.m. • Basement Conference Room 35-38

Keeping Arizona Communities Safe: How Are the Police and the People Working Together?

Join us for an open conversation about policing in Arizona led by Michael Scott, ASU School of Criminology & Criminal Justice. What are the practices and policies the police are following when they stop people or make arrests? Do community members feel the tactics are working to reduce crime? How do communities and police communicate on issues of public safety? What happens when things go wrong? What resources do we need for safe communities in Arizona, and how do we get them? How can our elected leaders help?

Monday, February 27th • 12:00 - 1:00 p.m. • Basement Conference Room 35-38

Access to Education: Together We Learn Better

Join us for an open conversation about education in Arizona led by ASU's Carrie Sampson and thinklaw's Colin Seale. How do we provide educational opportunities for all children? Does AZ education funding meet community needs? Do education policies help or hurt? What can we do to improve our schools? How can our elected leaders help?

Free Lunch Provided!

RSVP at www.peoplearetalking.eventbrite.com

MIRANDA
V.
ARIZONA

50 YEARS LATER: PART III

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 21ST / 6:30 - 8:30 PM

ARIZONA HUMANITIES

1242 N. CENTRAL AVENUE - PHOENIX, AZ 85004

This third installment of the Miranda v. Arizona program examines the legacy of the significant 1966 United States Supreme Court decision and explores what the future may hold. Miranda v. Arizona popularized the “you have a right to remain silent” legal warning and has affected citizen-police interactions and marginalized communities. Join Heather Hamel, Executive Director of AZ Justice That Works, for a free interactive workshop to discuss the future of Miranda v. Arizona and its effect on our communities. Enjoy complimentary light refreshments before and after the program.

FREE EVENT! RSVP AT MIRANDAVARIZONA.EVENTBRITE.COM.

WWW.AZHUMANITIES.ORG / 602-257-0335

Arizona Humanities Awards

Celebrate outstanding contributions to Arizona's cultural and civic life.

Friday, February 24, 2017

5:30 - 8:00 p.m.

New City PHX

1300 N. Central Ave. Phoenix, AZ 85004

$40 per person

RSVP by February 21st

Visit www.azhumanities.org or call 602-257-0335.

2017 Humanities Award Recipients

From left to right:

Nancy Liliana Godoy-Powell - Humanities Rising Star Award

James Blasingame - Humanities Public Scholar Award

Barbara Hatch - Friend of the Humanities Award

For questions or sponsorship information contact:

Missy Shackelford - mshackelford@azhumanities.org / 602-257-0335 x29

