PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

For over 44 years Arizona Humanities has celebrated, preserved, and honored the humanities - reflected through our nation’s history, art, music, and literature, to name a few. Whether offering entertaining and informative speakers through our AZ Speaks program, inspiring kids to read through Hop, Skip and Jump into Reading events for children and families, or inviting people to discuss important issues through FRANK Talks, Arizona Humanities brings people together. We know that the social, cultural and economic vitality of Arizona is enriched by the humanities. Stay tuned as we bring the Smithsonian Museum exhibition Water/Ways to 12 Arizona communities in June 2018.

“Arizona Humanities provides me with opportunities to learn that otherwise I would not have access to.” — Beth in Buckeye, AZ

Author & Film Talks
Inspire lively discussions on books, films, & poetry

Hop, Skip, & Jump Into Reading
Encourages families and children to read, play and learn together

Smithsonian’s Water/Ways
12 Arizona rural communities will host the traveling exhibit June 2018-April 2020

FRANK Talks
Community conversations launched in summer 2016 with the Arizona State Library, Archives and Public Records

AZ Speaks
286 presentations with 14,000 attendees at 100+ communities in 13 counties

“[The humanities] show where we have come from, how to cherish our past, and how we need to hang on to it for future generations.” — Nick in Benson, AZ
